Thanks for the material from the 1979 meeting. It is interesting to see the participant list and to see who has done what since then. Reading the program I am surprised at how particular the topics were. It must have seemed as if all that needed doing was to make a center. I guess Rockefeller expected to be the center?

I think that Temple would do a good job. He just might have a larger view of what happened and what it meant than anyone else there. If he starts the piece with references to the book of Genesis, you can do some editing!
